

Coral Sky Aviation

Website Questionnaire

Thanks for taking the time to fill this in. The more detail you give us here, the better and more accurate your demo website will be. Answer as much or as little as you like on each question — there are no wrong answers, and anything you skip we'll simply make a sensible assumption on and confirm with you later.

1. Who the website is for

The website will need to speak to a few different audiences at once. Help us understand which ones matter most to you so we get the priority right.

1. Who are the most important people you want this website to reach? Please rank them: aspiring pilots / cabin crew students / parents of students / airlines & industry partners / investors / aircraft owners needing maintenance (AMO) / other.
2. Of the four programmes — Flight Training, Cadet Pilot Programme, Cabin Crew Training, and AMO (Maintenance) — which do you most want the website to push right now? Which are live and taking students today, and which are still being set up?
3. Are your students mostly local (Gauteng / South Africa), from across Southern Africa, or international? This affects how we handle things like location, currency, and contact methods.

2. The single most important goal

4. When someone lands on the website, what is the one action you most want them to take? (e.g. submit an enquiry form, WhatsApp you, call you, book a discovery/intro session, request a brochure.) If there's a clear second priority, tell us that too.
5. When a potential student contacts you, what happens next on your side? (Do you call them, email a price list, invite them for a visit?) Knowing your process helps us design the contact flow to match.

3. Programmes & what to show

We've read your investor material, so we understand the structure. These questions are about what should actually appear publicly on the website.

6. For each programme you want featured, what should we display publicly? Specifically — do you want prices shown on the site (e.g. PPL, CPL, IR, cabin crew), shown only as “enquire for pricing,” or left off entirely?

7. Roughly how long does each programme take to complete, and what qualification or licence does a student walk away with? (e.g. PPL → CPL → IR pathway, cabin crew certification, etc.) A short student-friendly description of each would be ideal.

8. What are the entry requirements for your main programmes? (Age, education, medical, English level, anything else.) Prospective students always ask this, so answering it on the site saves you repeated questions.

9. Is there anything that genuinely sets Coral Sky apart from other South African flight schools? (e.g. everything on one site — flight + cabin crew + maintenance, runway access, simulators, the cabin mock-up, airline pathway.) Tell us in your own words what you're most proud of.

4. Credibility & trust

Aviation training is a big, expensive, high-trust decision for a student. The website's main job is to make Coral Sky look established, safe, and credible. These questions help us do that.

10. What is the current status of the school today? (e.g. operating under the acquired AAA School of Flying, number of active students, instructors on staff.) Be honest with us — we'll present it in the strongest truthful way.

11. What regulatory approvals or accreditations can we mention? (e.g. SACAA approval status, AMO licensing, any partnerships.) If approvals are still in progress, tell us — we'll phrase it appropriately rather than overclaim.

12. Do you have any of these we can feature: student testimonials, success stories, names of airlines or employers your graduates have gone to, or instructor bios/credentials? Even one or two strong ones make a big difference.

13. Your investor presentation contains revenue and profit projections. To be clear — none of that financial/investor information should go on the public website, correct? We assume the public site is for students and partners only, but please confirm.

5. Visuals

14. Do you have a logo file (ideally PNG with transparent background, or the original vector/AI file)? Please attach it. Same for any brand colours or fonts you already use — your deck uses a navy-and-gold look, should we stick with that?

15. Do you have your own photos of: the airport/facility, your aircraft, instructors, students in training, the classrooms or simulators? Real photos always beat stock, so please share whatever you have, even phone snaps.

16. You mentioned wanting aircraft imagery (Cessna 172, Piper). If you don't have your own photos of your actual aircraft yet, are you happy for us to use high-quality stock images of those aircraft types as placeholders for the demo?

17. Please send us 2–3 examples of aircraft or training-related images you'd specifically like to see on the site — anything that captures the feeling you want.

6. Look & feel

18. Pick the closest fit for how you want Coral Sky to come across: (a) premium / aspirational — “this is a serious career investment,” (b) friendly / accessible — “anyone can start their journey here,” (c) corporate / institutional — “trusted, established, professional.” It's fine to pick a blend.

19. Are there any other aviation school or airline websites — anywhere in the world — whose look you admire? Share the links. Equally, any you actively dislike? Tell us what puts you off.

20. Is there any wording, tone, or claim you definitely do not want on the site? (e.g. avoid mentioning it's newly formed, avoid certain promises.) Anything off-limits.

7. Functionality

21. Which of these do you need? Tick all that apply: contact/enquiry form, WhatsApp chat button, click-to-call, Google Maps location, online booking for an intro session, brochure/PDF download, photo gallery, newsletter signup, social media links, multi-language. If there's something not listed, add it.

22. When someone submits the contact form, which email address (or WhatsApp number) should the enquiry go to?

23. What contact details should be public on the site? (Phone, WhatsApp, email, physical address at Brakpan Fairfield Airport, operating hours.)

8. Practical & logistics

24. We understand you'd like a fresh domain specifically for Coral Sky. Do you have a preferred name in mind (e.g. coralskyaviation.com or .co.za)? And do you have a registrar/provider you already use for your other domains that you'd like us to set this up with, or would you like us to handle choosing and registering it?

25. Do you have any existing social media accounts (Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, etc.) we should link to?

26. Is there a date you'd like the website live by, or any event/deadline driving the timing?

27. Who on your side is the main point of contact for feedback and approvals — is that you, or someone else?

28. Anything else we should know? Something you're hoping for, something you're worried about, or something a previous designer or agency got wrong. This is your space — tell us anything.

Once we have this back, we'll build you a free demo of the homepage and key pages so you can see exactly how it'll look and feel before anything is finalised.
